NEWSLETTER 8th February 2019

Dear Parents

Stop and Drop

After half term, we will be starting Stop and Drop to help with the morning drop off. A letter will be sent home next week, with the rotas attached. I am sure we will be able to count on your support to help with the scheme.

Door Security

Can I please remind all parents of the importance of checking that the main doors are closed behind you on leaving the School?

World Book Day

You will have received a letter outlining the range of activities that we are arranging to celebrate World Book Day. We are looking forward to celebrating this year with a variety of activities. We are particularly looking forward to the book fair that our parent reps are organising to take place on Thursday 14th. As a reminder, relevant dates are listed below.

25th February- 8th March- sponsored book read

25th Feb- 8th March- collection of new books for Great Ormond Street Hospital

Class 4 News

Class 4 have had a lovely and varied week. We celebrated Chinese New Year by reading a story about Emperor Jade and the twelve animals racing across the river. We also had the experience of eating noodles with chopsticks, as well as making lanterns and decorating a picture of a pig and a dragon.

We played games to help us revise our letter sounds and clapped the number of syllables in our name. The children are learning to blend orally. If you say the phonic sounds of C.V.C words, they might tell you what you have just spelt!

We have been learning and exploring our 'transport' topic through the different areas of the Early Years Foundations Stage curriculum. This has included mathematics, expressive arts and design, literacy, communication and language, understanding the world and physical development. Together the children have created some lovely work for our display so please look to the left as you climb the final steps to the classroom, and you are welcome to come in and see your children's work.

4th March- 8th March- parents invited to read in school

7th March- Dress up as a favourite character from a book

Thursday 14th March- Book Fair

We hope that you will take the opportunity to get involved in World Book Day this year.

I wish everyone a lovely weekend.

With best wishes

Mrs Sylvester

Midweek we took a break and gave our dolls (and ourselves) a bubble bath.
