World Book Day

5th March 2020

World Book Day is a celebration of authors, illustrators, all types of books and reading. The first World Book Day was in 1995. The main aim is to encourage children and young people to read for enjoyment and to love books.

Celebrating World Book Day at Broadhurst School 2020

It was wonderful to see all the children and staff joyful and animated in their bright costumes on Thursday. Each class celebrated a different book and the themes across the School could be clearly seen. The day was inspirational for children to share and talk about books. Thank you very much to all the parents who visited the classes this week and for reading special stories from home. This has been a treasured experience for all the children.

We are also most grateful for the generous donations of books which will be given to Noah's Arc Children's Hospice. This charity works to support families with children who are facing life-limiting or life-threatening conditions.

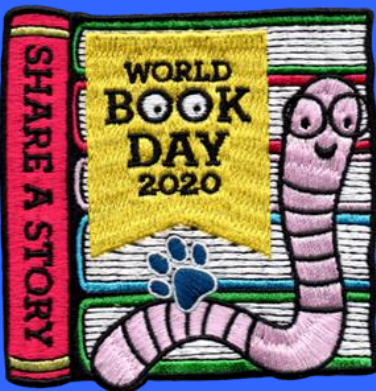

What some of our parents value:

“How happy the children are and the lovely teaching staff”

“The teachers are warm and wonderful; they focus on good manners and behaviour”

“The nurturing nature of the school”

Class 7 News

It has been a fantastic week in Class 7. We have been exploring lots of books in preparation for World Book Day. We focused on the story 'Aliens Love Underpants.' We painted our very own aliens and our favourite pants, taking care to choose our colours and think about the shapes we used. We also spent time making play dough aliens, focusing on manipulating the dough in different ways through pulling, squeezing and pinching. We finished off the week in our amazing costumes to celebrate World Book Day and sharing our favourite books with our friends.
