

The Broadhurst Bulletin

BROADHURST SCHOOL NEWSLETTER | MARCH 14th 2025

Welcome Mrs Sleator!

We are delighted to welcome Mrs. Eilish Sleator as our new Headteacher. With over 17 years of experience in senior leadership roles in early years and primary education, both locally and internationally, she brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to our school community. Mrs. Sleator is committed to upholding the traditions and ethos that have defined Broadhurst since the start and ensuring the best start for our young learners. Please join us in wishing her every success in her new role!

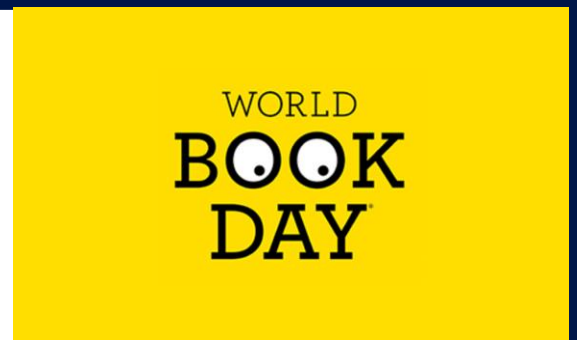

SPOTLIGHT OF THE WEEK

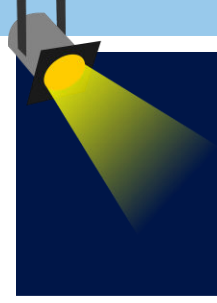

World Book Day Celebrations.

Let's look back to last week...

Last Thursday, we had a delightful day celebrating World Book Day at our school. The classrooms were filled with vibrant decorations inspired by beloved stories, creating an enchanting atmosphere. Children came dressed as their favourite characters, from the classic Gruffalo and Little Red Riding Hood to modern comic book icons such as superheroes and magical creatures. Throughout the day, the children eagerly engaged in storytelling sessions, where they shared their favourite narratives and re-enacted memorable scenes. The excitement was palpable as they role-played and were fully immersed in bringing characters to life with enthusiasm and creativity. It is always such a joyful celebration that fosters a real love for reading and storytelling amongst all of our children.

SPOTLIGHT OF THE WEEK

The Broadhurst Ducklings have arrived!

Our duckling eggs arrived this week and have already hatched. We now have five little ducklings at Broadhurst School. We are excited to nurture and play with them. Next week, we will introduce the ducklings to water and create slides from various materials. We are also learning about the life cycle of a duck and the different stages it goes through. It is so rewarding to care for living things!

It is with deep gratitude that we bid farewell to Miss Belzer, who has been an invaluable part of our school community. From her time as Deputy Head to her role as Headmistress, she has led with dedication, kindness, and unwavering commitment. Her guidance has shaped the lives of so many students, staff, and families, leaving a lasting impact on our school.

Miss Belzer will be truly missed, but her legacy will remain in the hearts of all who had the privilege of working with and learning from her. We wish her every happiness and success in the next chapter of her journey!

Notes for Parents

Don't forget to follow Broadhurst on Instagram and Facebook!  @broadhurstschool.

Dates for the diary

- Parent Meetings 18th & 20th March.
- Assessment Workshop for Pre- Nursery Parents: 18th and 25th March- Workshop begins at 5pm.

Have a great weekend from all at Broadhurst School!

